

How to combat winter moping?

In this situation, I advise changing the mode: to give more time to sleep, quiet activities. During such periods creative activities such as writing poems, drawing, and composing music are usually very good. So it will be useful to redirect your attention to the opportunities that this time of year gives us.

